

Quigggle Sees Snow

Katy Pike
Illustrated by Nathan Jurevicius

Blink, blink

That's very white,
Quiggle said.

and soft

and cold, brrrrr.

It's snow, said Meerkat.

Snow, repeated Quiggle.
What does snow do?

I'll show you, said Meerkat.
Over here! Over here!

Snow makes snow prints.

Oh, said Quiggle.
What else does snow do?

I'll show you, said Meerkat.
Over here! Over here!

Snow makes snow angels.

That was fun!
What else does snow do?

I know. I know. I'll show you.
Over here! Over here!

Roll a ball.
Yes, yes, like that, like that.

And another one, but smaller this time.

Now find some rocks and a scarf.

Ta da!

A stylized illustration of a character named Quiggle. The character has a large, round, yellow head with a thick black outline. The face is simple, with a closed left eye and an open right eye. The body is a solid red color. The background is a light blue with several white, circular spots scattered around. The text is centered at the bottom of the page.

Quiggle blinked.
She closed one eye.

She looked at it this way.

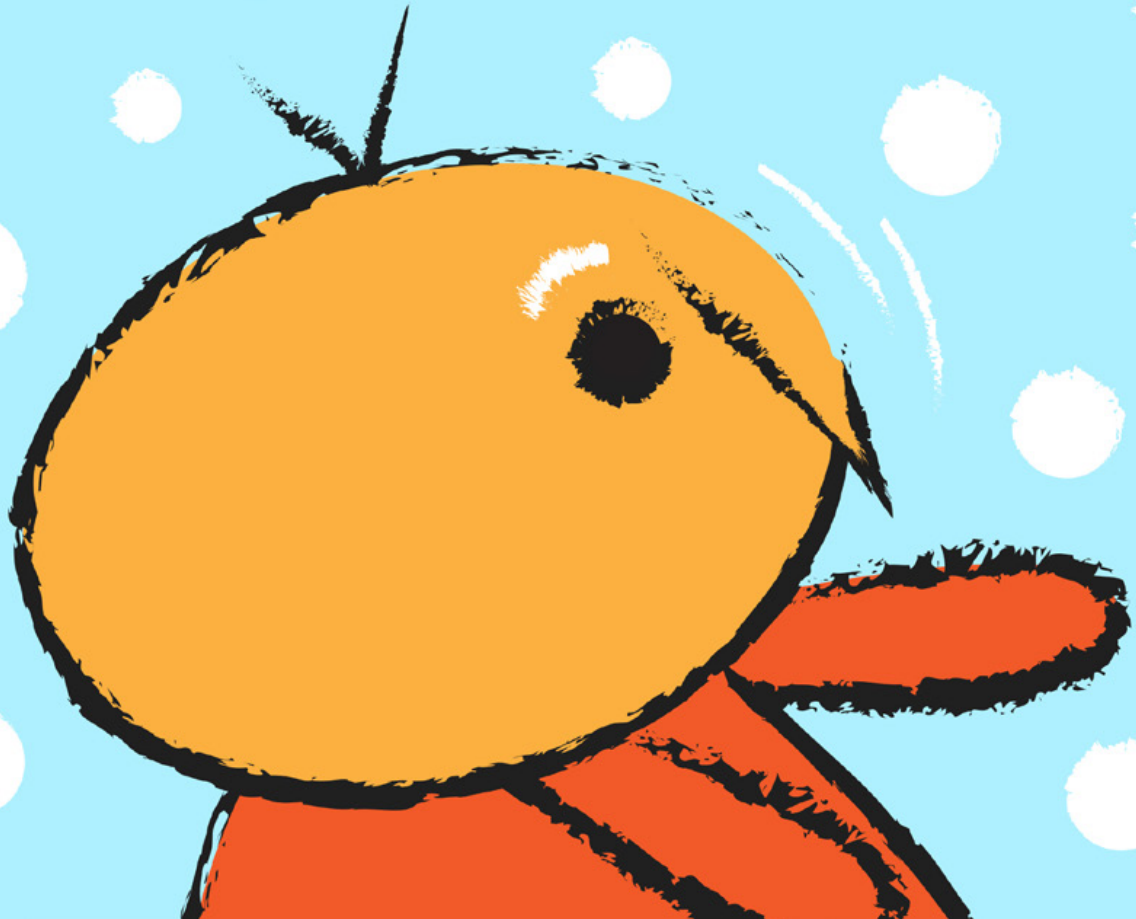

She looked at it that way.

Oh I see, said Quiggle with a smile.
You see? asked Meerkat.

Quiggle nodded.
It's a Snow Owl!

Yes it is, said Meerkat.
It's a Snow Owl.
And it's just for you.

Quiggle is a small orange owl and she sees snow for the very first time.
